

CASTORIA

for Infants and Children.

Don't Poison Baby.

FORTY YEARS AGO almost every mother thought her child must have paregoric or laudanum to make it sleep. These drugs will produce sleep, and a few drops too many will produce the sleep from which there is no waking. Many are the children who have been killed or whose health has been ruined for life by paregoric, laudanum and morphine, each of which is a narcotic product of opium. Druggists are prohibited from selling either of the narcotics named to children at all, or to anybody, without labeling them "poison." The definition of "narcotic" is: "A medicine which relieves pain and produces sleep, but which in poisonous doses produces stupor, coma, convulsions and death." The taste and smell of medicines containing opium are disguised, and sold under the names of "Drops," "Cordials," "Soothing Syrups," etc. You should not permit any medicine to be given to your children without your or your physician's knowledge of what it is composed. Castoria does not contain narcotics.

The signature of Dr. H. H. Fletcher guarantees genuine Castoria. Physicians Recommend Castoria.

"I have frequently prescribed Castoria for common ailments of children with good results." W. A. Calkins, M. D., Buffalo, N. Y.

"I find your Castoria is very beneficial in the treatment of children's ailments." F. Davis, M. D., Chicago, Ill.

"As the father of thirteen children, I certainly know something about your great medicine and, aside from my own family experience, I have, in my years of practice, found Castoria a popular and efficient remedy in almost every home." W. J. McCann, M. D., Omaha, Neb.

INTEREST IN SHOE CONTRACTS

BY C. S. ALBERT.
(Special Bulletin Correspondence.)
WASHINGTON, D. C., Feb. 28.—Charging that the American Woolen Company, the United Shoe Machinery Company, and the Herman Shoe Company of Boston, have a monopolistic control over army and navy contracts, specifically shoe contracts, the House Committee on Rules today reported favorably a resolution introduced by Congressman Dwyer of Pennsylvania, asking that a special subcommittee be given power to investigate the allegations.

Dwyer claims the government is annually defrauded out of $1,000,000 as a result of unfairly awarded contracts to these concerns. Battleships, cruisers and torpedo boats may visit Baltimore during the meeting of the Democratic national convention in June next, in compliance with the request of the mayor of that city. In replying to the mayor's letter, Secretary Meyer said that "the department will make every endeavor to accord with your wishes in the matter, and I trust that it may be possible to detail a good representation of naval vessels to visit Baltimore at the times in question without unduly interfering with the technical work in which the fleet is usually engaged during the month of June."

Miss Helen W. Myer, daughter of Gen. Albert Myer, who was chief signal officer of the United States army, and founder of the Weather Bureau, died at her apartments in Stoneleigh Court after an illness of about six weeks. Miss Myer had been a resident of Washington most of her life. She is survived by three sisters and two brothers. For thirty years the family home was on the site of the new Army and Navy Club.

HOBSON OBJECT OF HOT WORDS

WASHINGTON, D. C., Feb. 17.—Bitter personal attacks on Representative Richmond P. Hobson were made on the floor of the House today by two of his Democratic colleagues—Representative Hay of Virginia, chairman of the Military Affairs Committee, and Representative Fitzgerald of New York, chairman of the Appropriations Committee.

Remarks inserted in the Congressional Record, but not uttered on the floor, directed against these two members, formed the basis for the attack. Hay charged Hobson with having acted in a "cowardly way," and Fitzgerald declared Hobson devoted more time to the Chautauqua platform than to attending sessions of the House.

Fitzgerald told the House that he had called at Hobson's office to request him to be present to hear personally the attack he proposed to make upon him, but Hobson had left the city. "The gentleman from Alabama explained his absence from the House by saying he had a message to deliver to the people," said Fitzgerald. "If he chooses to accept his compensation as a Representative and spend his time delivering messages for pay from the Chautauqua platform, that is his privilege. It is my opinion that he would better serve the country by attending to his duties here."

Representative Hay said he felt called upon to repudiate on behalf of the Military Affairs Committee the "cowardly insinuations" contained in Representative Hobson's criticism of the Army reorganization scheme.

PACIFIC SUGAR MILL HAS SOME LABOR SHORTAGE

Pacific Sugar Mill's annual meeting, held this afternoon at 2 o'clock at the offices of the agents, F. A. Schaefer & Co., brought out a report from Manager August Ahrens that is rather pessimistic so far as labor conditions are concerned. On the other hand, some very pleasant facts are stated as to the growing crops, and in particular he comments on the 1912 crop, which, he says, is very far advanced. His report in part is as follows:

"Crop 1911.—The grinding season commenced December 6, 1910, and finished July 31, 1911. Owing to the greater amount of wet weather during the first six months of the harvesting season the sucrose in the cane was so low that it took 10 tons of cane to produce one ton of sugar. My estimate, which was 7250 tons, was, however, exceeded by 248,555 tons. From the 2236 acres harvested we got 7498,555 tons marketable sugar, for which we received an average price of $74.60 net."

"Crop 1912.—This crop will consist of 2236 acres. I estimate this crop will produce 7000 tons sugar. The apparent shortage of sugar in comparison to the previous crop and acreage is partly due to dry spells we had during June and July, 1910. Furthermore, the colder climatic conditions prevailing during the latter part of the growing season was a deterrent factor. We started the grinding season on December 18, and so far have harvested 1000 tons sugar, finished two fields; which have just reached the estimate. The sugar output per ton of cane is higher than at the same time a year ago."

"Crop 1913.—The acreage for this crop will consist of 2485 acres. All the cane for this crop looks exceedingly well and further advanced than any cane I have seen in former years at the same time of the season, with the exception of Field 11. In that field, which is first ratoon, the cane is very stout and does not promise a good stand. A few fields of second ratoon are promising better yields than when harvested as plant cane. This may be due to another mode of cultivation we applied last fall. However, the difference is remarkable."

"Crop 1914.—This crop will consist of about the same acreage as the 1912 crop, i. e., 2245 acres, according to the present survey. From past experience we feel justified in letting all hill sides and rocky places lie idle, which, if done, will reduce the acreage about 100 acres, perhaps more, and will greatly decrease the cost of the crop, as less seed, planting, cultivating and fertilizing will have to be done. The hill sides and rocky places have always needed a great deal of care and the returns do not justify the expense."

"Operating Expenses.—The yearly expenses are given in detail in Exhibit B, and the cost of the crop of 1911 in Exhibit C of the statistical reports, herewith appended."

"Improvements.—During the past year the directors have allowed me to make several much needed improvements in the factory and also the extension of our permanent flumes. These two properties have been improved to such an extent that no further additions will be needed for some time to come."

"Laborers' Quarters.—When speaking of building 31 houses, in last year's report, I thought this would be the end of the matter, but I find that I was wrong. The arrival of Spaniards made necessary the erection of more houses for single families. When these people were comfortably lodged a very unpleasant outbreak of plague, in a camp very near to Kukuluae proper, occurred, and then we were forced to a more extensive clearing and condemning of old houses, so that at present

AVIATOR SHOT IN WAR: HURLS BOMBS ON ARABS

Capt. Monte of Italian Army Is Wounded After Dropping Missiles on Enemy.

TRIPOLI, Feb. 1.—Capt. Monte, an Italian military aviator, was severely wounded today while throwing bombs from an aeroplane into an Arab encampment near Tobruk in Cyrenaica. Outposts of the Italian force at Tobruk, which was occupied by the Italian expeditionary army in October, have been subjected recently to a number of harassing attacks by the Arabs, whose position and strength were not known to the Italian commander.

Bullet Hits the Aviator.

The aeroplane was struck four times by the Arab bullets, one of which hit Capt. Monte, wounding him severely. He was, however, able to return to camp with the assistance of his companion and both landed safely, bringing valuable information.

Saw Peril in Bomb Throwing.

Predictions that the airship as a means of throwing bombs in war would not be a success were made in a special cable dispatch to the Daily News from Rome, January 22. Giving the opinion of the military authorities, the correspondent said:

"Bomb throwing from aeroplanes in flight has not proved a success. The risks taken by the aviator who, besides piloting the machine, has to handle the bombs, are so great that the authorities have discontinued the practice for the present. As all Italian aeroplanes are built to carry only the pilot it has been found impossible for aviators to take an artillery officer as a passenger to handle the bombs."

Experiments are being made with a special apparatus, known as a bomb throwing box, which it is proposed to attach to the bottom of the aeroplane. By means of compressed air it can be used like a torpedo tube to hurl bombs at the enemy. It is hoped that with the help of this apparatus, which this far is in the experimental stage, aviators will be enabled to adjust the aim and make the necessary allowances for altitude and speed.

"Two army dirigibles have been sent to Tripoli to replace those damaged during the storm, and probably early next month they will be able to make flights over the desert. Experiments in bomb throwing from airships will then be started. If they prove successful the aeroplane service will be limited to reconnaissance, while the dirigibles will be used exclusively for bomb throwing."

MAN LOCKED IN BOILER AS STEAM IS TURNED ON

Deck Hand on Starlin Line Boat Badly Burned and Leg May Have to Be Amputated.

NEW HAVEN, Conn., Feb. 6.—Charles Tulver, a deck hand on the Storm King, one of the Strain Line boats, will probably lose his leg and tonight is suffering from severe burns as the result of being practically locked in the huge boiler of the boat. His home address is No. 441 Baldwin avenue, Jersey City, but he is now at the New Haven Hospital and will be there for some time.

There had been trouble with the boiler all the way up from New York and Tulver was sent from the deck to see if he could make the necessary repairs. His arrival in the boiler room was unnoticed. He crawled into the boiler and was at work there when the strong wind finally blew the heavy door shut, and it snapped so that it was impossible to open it from the inside.

Elisha Alling, the engineer, not knowing Tulver was inside the boiler turned on the steam. Tulver shouted but the sizzling of the steam drowned his cries. He rushed toward the door but the steam was so thick he could not find it and was badly burned. When he did, he pounded on it, burning himself most severely, and finally attracted the attention of Alling, who opened the door and Tulver fell out unconscious.
